

Editors' Picks: 17 Events for Your Art Calendar This Week, From a New Deitch-Gagosian Collaboration to a Look at the US Presidency

There's lots to look forward to this week.

Tim Schneider | 18 January 2021

Each week, we search for the most exciting and thought-provoking shows, screenings, and events. In light of the global health crisis, we are currently highlighting events and digitally, as well as in-person exhibitions open in the New York area. See our picks from around the world below. (Times are all EST unless otherwise noted.)

4. "Virtual Talk: The Gee's Bend Quiltmakers" at Alison Jacques Gallery, London

In conjunction with the gallery's current group exhibition highlighting works by three generations of Gee's Bend women, Souls Grown Deep curator Raina Lampkins-Fielder will moderate a live Zoom conversation with Mary Margaret Pettway and Loretta Pettway

Bennett, two artists from this vital quilting lineage (the latter is featured in the show). If you read this on Monday, January 18, you can also prep for the talk by viewing the documentary "The Gee's Bend Quiltmakers" on the gallery's website (at no cost) until the following day. Either or both will enrich your understanding of one of North America's most important contemporary art traditions.
